Our Events

What we did in sisterhood, philanthropy and fun!

Miss Greek

In November, our very own Kasie Dorr competed in Sigma Pi's philanthropy event Miss Greek. A representative from all the sororities was sent to compete and all of the sisters, armed with signs and shirts, went to support. At the end of the night, a much deserving Kasie Dorr was crowned Miss Congeniality! We are so very proud of our beautiful and talented sister.

Los Angeles Regional Food Bank

Also in November, Alpha Omicron Pi joined with Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity to travel to Los Angeles to package food for underprivileged families for the holidays. After three hours, we packaged thousands of boxes of food for families and had such an amazing time doing it!

Grab-A-Date

Later that month, some of our sisters went and out grabbed themselves a date for some holiday ice-skating. This wonderful time together created many new memories and even some new friends as they skated the night away.

Sisterhood Holiday Party

As our very last sisterhood of the semester, we gathered together at our chapter house to have a holiday party. While we decorated gingerbread houses and exchanged crazy holiday socks, we were continuing to build our bonds of sisterhood and share the love between us all.

More Events

Powderpuff Football

As one of the largest fraternity philanthropy events, Kappa Sigma's powderpuff football pushed many of our sisters to the limit as they battled on the football field against the other sororities for the first place title. After practicing for months, Alpha Omicron Pi's team took the field and amazed everyone as their talent, determination, and hard work led them to take third place! Such an amazing victory for us, and everything we were able to do for Kappa Sigma's philanthropy.

Sisters for Soldiers

Eight of our sisters travelled down near San Diego for the Sisters for Soldiers philanthropy event. They arrived and made letters and gifts for soldiers stationed overseas to brighten up their day during the holidays.

Brinner is Coming Up!

It's that time of year again! Our annual philanthropy event, Brinner, is coming up. Once a year we host a dinner and invite everyone to attend and enjoy a delicious breakfast for dinner. During this Brinner, while we will be talking and having a great time, we will also be raising money for Arthritis Research!
